

Negotiation Update December 2011

There are many factors to be taken under consideration for the upcoming contract. The school year of 2012–2013 is an enigma. We are trying to envision what the state of education and funding will be for that year. The changes in the Provincial government, the upcoming election, the health of the world and local economy and the upcoming teacher contract all need to be evaluated. Your negotiating team has met again with the District. This resulted in a frank and open conversation. Both sides are hopeful that future conversations will lead to a successful conclusion. We will continue to update you.
